

Summary of relevant skills and experiences

Ruth Rubio-Marin is Full Professor of Constitutional law at the University of Seville, Spain. She is also the Director of the Gender Cluster of the School of Transnational Governance at the European University Institute - EUI (Florence, Italy). Finally, she is the Director of the Unesco Chair in Human Rights and Multiculturalism at the International University of Andalucia (Spain).

From 2008 until 2016, she was Chair of Constitutional and Public Comparative Law at the EUI. Over the past twenty years, she has accumulated vast experience in the field of gender constitutionalism, multiculturalism, human rights, immigration law, and citizenship theory. In such fields, she has produced an extensive corpus of international publications.

She has taught students and members of civil society on the interrelations of law, gender, and diversity. She has delivered distinguished lectures and keynote speeches in some of the world leading academic institutions.